NANCY HALLAS TO GIVE CONCERT
AT SALVE REGINA COLLEGE SUNDAY

Nancy Hallas, the well-known soprano who resides in Portsmouth, Rhode Island, will be presented by Salve Regina College on Sunday, January 9, in the Great Hall of Ochre Court at 7:30 p.m., in a concert for the students and friends of the college. She will be accompanied by Marian Van Slyke, director of the Salve Regina Glee Club.

In the first half of the program Miss Hallas will sing: "Petite Poupee" by Poldini; "L'Heure Exquise," Hahn; "Air Champetre," Poulenc; "Bell Song," Delibes; "Setu M'Ami," Pergolesi; "Care Selve," Handel; and "Quando Rapita in Estasi," Donizetti.

Following a brief intermission, she will offer: "I Feel Pretty" (from West Side Story) by Bernstein; "Oriental Romance," Rimsky-Korsakoff; "I Can't Be Talkin' of Love," Duke; "Willow Song" (Ballad of Baby Doe), Moore; "Music in Heaven," Birch; and "Alleluia," Mozart.

Nancy Hallas began her professional career under the guidance of Carl and Helen Lamson in Boston, and later studied with Adelaide Thomas Eakin in New York.

Miss Hallas is the soprano soloist at Mathewson Street Methodist Church in Providence and has included Oratorio and American Opera works among her accomplishments. She has a particular fondness for American music and is now in great demand on the concert stage interpreting works by contemporary American composers, who, upon discovering her exceptional ability to perform their songs, have begun to write compositions especially for her.

Miss Hallas continues her studies with Tina Paggi and Arpad Sandor in New York and performs throughout the Eastern United States on radio, television and in recitals.

The public is invited to the concert without charge.
